Open House Starts Public School Week

Public School Week in Canyon begins Sunday with an open house at the Elementary School and work exhibits in individual home rooms from 3 to 5 p. m.

All students will have work available for inspection by parents and other visitors. The High School and Junior High School will not be open Sunday afternoon for work exhibits. However, the faculty and administration invite patrons to visit the schools during the week to see work in progress. An invitation has also been issued from the Elementary School staff to visit during the week. Tags will be pinned to those who visit the schools during Public School Week, and visitation will be stressed throughout the observance.

Also in observance of the special week, a joint meeting of the Canyon Classroom Teachers Association and the Randall County Unit of TSTA will be held in the High School Cafeteria at 7:45 p. m. Tuesday. Amarillo Supt. of Schools Chas. A. Rogers, state chairman of the Board of the Teachers Retirement System, will speak at the meeting.

He will explain the proposed teacher retirement amendment to the state constitution, which will be voted on at the next general election. Any interested citizen is asked to attend the meeting. At 1:15 p. m. March 8, a program will be presented in the Student Council and FTA members will act as receptionists at each of the schools during the week and will pin the tags on each person visiting the school. The tags will read: "I have visited my school, have you?"

Special programs on Public School Week will be presented to the Lions and Rotary Clubs at their regular meetings.

In addition to visiting school during class hours, every patron is invited to eat in the school cafeteria with the children.

The theme of the observance this year is "Public Schools—The Foundation of Democracy." Objectives of the week in Canyon are to bring the citizens of the community to the public schools, to show how the public schools teach the fundamentals of citizenship, to develop better understanding between parents and teachers, and to demonstrate that Johnny CAN read.

Not The Reds... Just The Birds!

Those explosions you heard early Tuesday night weren't the scouts heralding a Red invasion. No sirree.

Those explosions were the sounds of Randall County's finest fighting off a brown invasion. The sheriff's department, armed with their trusty shotguns, were blasting away at the birds nesting in the trees around the courthouse.

You know the birds in question. They're the ones which have been busy making dark cars white and white cars dirty.

Residents Eligible In Softball League

The Canyon Softball League committee met Friday and began organization for the softball season. At this meeting the committee decided to limit participation on the teams to those who are considered residents of Canyon and this will include college students.

The committee also decided to meet again March 23 at which time the sponsors and managers of the teams entering the league are requested to be present.

Teams entered so far are the First Baptist Church, Bellah's, Thompson's, Western Auto, and Cheatham Clothiers.

State To Mark Veterans Graves

Unmarked graves of veterans of the Texas Revolutionary War will be marked at state expense by the Texas Historical Survey, according to information received by C. Boone McClure, temporary chairman of the Randall County Historical Survey Committee.

McClure said the state organization has asked that information of unmarked graves be sent in, along with unmarked sites of historical significance in the county.

McClure asked that anyone who knows of an unmarked Texas Revolutionary War veteran's grave contact him.

'Fighting Heart' Award Given Thursday

A "Fighting Heart" award, sponsored by the Canyon Rotary Club, will be presented to a West Texas State Buffalo basketball player Thursday during half-time ceremonies at the WT-New Mexico A&M cage game.

The final game of the season for the Buffaloes will be played in the West Texas field house, with game time at 8 p. m.

A gift certificate of $100 will be awarded by the club to the player who has shown a "fighting

Mrs. J. T. Sykes Improves Slowly

Mrs. Clarence Stallings returned home Saturday after spending 10 days with her sister, Mrs. J. T. Sykes, who was injured seriously in a car wreck near Poteau, Okla., on Feb. 9.

Mrs. Sykes is improving slowly, although she is still considered in serious condition, Mrs. Stallings reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Sykes live in Siloam Springs, Ark., and the family hopes to be able to move Mrs. Sykes to a Siloam Springs hospital soon.

spirit and aggressiveness" throughout the season.

The award was begun last year, and first winner was Bill Clifton, Childress senior who was a member of the 1954-55 Border Conference co-championship team.

Spring Revival Starts Sunday

The Spring Revival of the First Methodist Church will begin with the morning service Sunday with Dr. Ray Neil Johnson conducting the services.

During the revival, which lasts until March 11, two daily services are scheduled, one at 7 a. m. and the second at 7:30 p. m. Monday through Friday. The morning services are scheduled to end at 7:45 a. m.

Before the morning worship periods, a light breakfast will be served in the church beginning at 6:30 a. m. The breakfast will be served by different church groups, with the first by the Men's Fellowship Class.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Tomlinson left Thursday for Houston and Austin.

3 Firms Bid for Financing Buildings, Costs Estimated To Total $175,500

Following action begun earlier in February, the Randall County Commissioners Court Monday reviewed plans for a new courthouse annex in Canyon and a tax office in South Amarillo and received bids from bond firms for financing construction of the annex. The commissioners studied plans and architects sketches submitted by L. A. Kerr of the Amarillo architect firm of Kerr and Kerr. His estimate of the cost of the annex was $145,500 and for the tax office was $35,000.

County Accepts Road, Car Bids

The Randall County Commissioners Court received bids for paving of Hollywood Road, two new four-door sedans for the sheriff's department and for 40 record binders for the clerks office Monday.

The court agreed to furnish 100-foot right of way for 2.7 miles on Bell Avenue to facilitate paving of the road from Highway 87 to Highway 66.

The contract for paving of Hollywood Road went to J. Lee Milligan of Amarillo on a low bid of $25,471. The road is 3.6 miles long. Other bids received were Gilvin-Terrill, $27,669; and Cooper and Woodruff, $34,447.

Only one bid was received for the sheriff's cars. The contract was given to Plains Chevrolet of Amarillo and was for $828.66 each with a trade-in.

Only one bid was received for the record binders. The contract was awarded to General Office Supply of Amarillo for 40 binders at $43.50 each. County Auditor E. T. Cummings had previously ordered 16 binders from two firms downstate at $48.50 each.

The commissioners decided to honor the previous purchases as checks had already been sent to the downstate firms. The county clerk's office estimates that 40 of the binders are used each year.

At the first regular meeting of the court in February, Cummings had submitted a ruling from the state attorney general that commissioners could be allowed only $50 per month car allowance, whereas the commission had ordered a payment of $100.

The commission asked for another ruling inasmuch as the commissioners are also acting as road overseers.

Criminal Dist. Atty. A. W. Lair submitted a letter to Cummings. (Cont. on Back Page Section 1)

City Club Starts 3 Grass Greens

Material for three grass greens for the Canyon City Club has been ordered and installation is expected to begin during the next two weeks.

The grass greens will be installed at holes number 3, 6 and 7, where a new pump will be harnessed to furnish water. As soon as water is available for other greens, the remaining holes will be converted to grass greens.

More than 50 members of the club attended the annual stockholders meeting in January and approved the grass-green plans. John Williams, E. M. Myers, Ples Harper, I. F. SoRelle, Bill Sternberg, Bill Davis and Charlie Donnell were elected to the board of directors at the meeting.

A week later, at a directors meeting, Williams was re-elected president, Myers vice president, and Davis re-elected secretary for the coming year.

The club expects to re-charter in August, at which time the club will have been in existence for 50 years.

The stockholders voted to increase the cost of shares to $200 at the January meeting, and expect to raise the value to $500 after the re-charter and completion of the golf course and a planned clubhouse.

The board announced that there are 18 shares now available.

The grass greens are put on a base consisting of cotton burrs, pea gravel, fertilizer, peat moss and topsoil. The three greens now under construction are expected to be ready for play sometime in April. Members of the club are doing the labor to keep costs at a minimum.

Originally, Kerr and the commissioners had estimated that $100,000 would build the courthouse annex, which includes a new county jail. But the commission decided to add a jury dormitory which raised the cost of the building.

As plans stand now, the courthouse annex would include offices for the sheriff's department, highway patrol, justice of the peace and a small justice courtroom on the first floor. Also on the floor will be a kitchen for feeding prisoners.

On the second floor of the building will be the jail and the jury dormitory. Half of the dormitory will be for female jurors, and the other half for male.

The dormitory rooms, which are separated by a hallway, will have individual cubicles for 10 beds. The cubicles will allow some privacy without breaking the law that requires that jurors not be separated into different rooms.

In the event an all-male or all-female jury of 12 persons must be kept overnight, two beds may be moved into either room. The dormitories will have a space for a table for jury deliberations and for eating as well as toilet and bathing facilities.

The commissioners signed an agreement with the Kerr firm to execute the plans, supervise construction and inspect the work. The architects fee is five per cent of the total cost of construction.

Three bond firms submitted bids for handling warrants for construction and for converting them into bonds after construction is finished. The commission received the bids and held them for further study.

R. J. Edwards, Inc., of Dallas and Lubbock, said they would handle the warrants for three per cent and convert the bonds for an average interest rate of 2.83359 per cent.

First Southwest Company, Dallas and Plainview, offered to handle the warrants for 2.875 per cent and convert the warrants for an average 2.875 per cent.

Columbian Securities of Amarillo and Burt, Hamilton and Company of Dallas offered to take the warrants for 2.75 per cent and convert them into bonds for an average 2.6916 per cent.

The tax office in Amarillo must be financed out of current funds, according to law. County Auditor E. T. Cummings told the commissioners that surpluses in various county funds could be used for the building and would be enough to handle the construction costs.

He said that the increased tax roll had created the surpluses. Originally the tax roll was estimated at about $21 million, but it had grown to almost $22 million.

He said that taking the surplus money from the funds would not materially constrict the operation of the county.

The commission will accept or reject the bond firm bids at a later meeting.

Kerr told the commission it would take at least 30 days to prepare working drawings of the two buildings and to make construction estimates.

He estimated it would take about 90 days to build the tax office in South Amarillo, but did not estimate how long the courthouse annex might take.

Slight Erosion Seen in Storm

Last Friday's dust storm paled the bright afternoon sun and filled homes with dirt, but did little damage to farmland in Randall County.

During the storm, with visibility occasionally limited to five feet, there were six automobile accidents in the county involving 19 cars. Six persons were injured in the wrecks.

Those injured in a wreck two miles north of the Palo Duro Highway on Washington were Mrs. Crawford Kiker, Canyon, Mrs. Robert W. Foster, Happy, and Mrs. E. J. Gallagher, Amarillo.

In another wreck near the same spot, Estel Spencer of Amarillo was injured. Sherman Cottrell of Brownfield was injured in a third wreck about one-half mile south of Canyon on Highway 87.

The wrecks began late in the afternoon and continued at half-hour intervals until after dark. The first wreck was on Washington between a pickup truck and an automobile.

The second was near the same spot and involved eight cars before the series of collisions was over. One about a half-mile south of Canyon involved a truck and four cars.

Investigating officers said visibility was limited to a few feet at times and the collisions were caused by the lack of visibility. "They ran into each other like pushing over a stack of dominoes," one officer said.

"I don't think the damage was very much," County Agent John Brazil said of the storm.

In driving over the county looking at the land, Brazil said it was "not hard to find small areas that blew." He said the blowing fields won't be hard to stop.

"Most farmers are out after it right now," he said Tuesday afternoon. "There are more tractors out than I've seen in quite a while."

"The conditions were just right. The ground was puffed up from the snow and ready to blow. That was one of the hardest winds we've had in a long time. We shouldn't have any more trouble unless we get a long spell of hard winds," Brazil said.

The weather bureau in Amarillo reported that winds blew steady in the 50's at times, and gusts of 90 miles an hour were measured at the air terminal in Amarillo. The dust area extended from Albuquerque, N. M., to Oklahoma City.

Views and Comments

The Federal Government holds to itself the right to regulate anything that passes in interstate commerce. Most all of us can agree that the Federal Government should handle any regulating that is necessary because the several states would be in continuous and endless squabbles if the regulations weren't handled in Washington.

However, the Federal Government has stretched and stretched that right through Supreme Court rulings, until now Washington can reach down and regulate about anything it wants to.

The right to regulate interstate commerce has been stretched so far that the Congress and the Supreme Court feel that the Federal Government cannot regulate those things which are in direct interstate commerce, but also those things which contribute indirectly to interstate commerce.

For instance, if you are a small manufacturer with a strictly local trade, you would feel that your business would not be subject to Federal regulation. But suppose a substantial part of the products you manufacture finds its way across into New Mexico. You didn't ship it there, but a wholesaler who bought it from you did send it to New Mexico.

The interstate regulations have been interpreted to put your business under the thumb of the Federal Government.

Sometimes those interpretations work to the good, and sometimes they don't. On the good side, the Federal Government says it has jurisdiction in kidnaping cases after five days because a kidnaper would have had time to cross a state line. That's pretty far-fetched because a kidnaper could also have been traveling in a circle within a 30-mile radius for five days. But the interpretation works to the good because it allows the Federal Bureau of Investigation to swing into action and gives law enforcement officers a better chance to capture the kidnaper and return the person who was kidnapped before any great harm can be done.

On the other hand, the stretched interpretation can work great harm.

Right now, for instance, identical bills are pending in the House of Representatives and the Senate which would prohibit the "transportation in interstate commerce of advertisements of alcoholic beverages."

At first glance, that would seem like a fine thing to most of the people who live in this area. Most of the people here are "drys" or like to be known as "drys." Most would feel that a ban on advertising liquor would protect our teenagers and keep nasty old liquor advertising out of our living rooms.

The Canyon News does not publish any liquor advertising as a matter of policy. Nor do a lot of other newspapers in this area, especially the weekly newspapers. Many of the radio stations you can pick up with your set do not have liquor advertising, but the television stations nearby have several ads every day for various beer, whiskey and wine brands.

The argument behind the possible ban on liquor advertising is most likely that liquor is not good for people and should not be advertised in an enticing manner. That may be true or it may not, as a matter of personal opinion. But the joker behind banning liquor advertising by the Federal Government is simply this: If the Federal Government can ban advertising for one product, it can ban the advertising for any other.

Using the same kind of reasoning, automobiles kill more people in the United States than any other one thing. Therefore automobiles are bad for the people (a matter of personal opinion) and advertising automobiles should be banned. So, Alvin McDonald, you cannot advertise that you have cars for sale, nor can you say what kind of automobile you sell—although it's still all right for you to sell them.

Busses are also automobiles, so R. A. Smith, you cannot advertise that you can arrange for chartered busses. Along the same line, some people are allergic to flowers and others get hay fever from pollen. Therefore, flowers aren't good for people (a matter of personal opinion) and they shouldn't be advertised. H. R. Fulton, you cannot advertise that you have flowers for sale, nor can you Mrs. Lessie Stevens.

Some people eat too much and it makes them sick. Some people get so fat that it curtails their life. Therefore, food is bad for people (a matter of personal opinion) and it should not be advertised. Clay Cooper, you and Bob Bellah, Ray Campbell and Lindsey Taylor have got to stop advertising that you have food for sale.

Some books contain ideas that are foreign to the philosophy currently popular in the United States and it is bad for the nation for those ideas to be spread around (another matter of personal opinion). So, The Canyon News can no longer advertise that it has books for sale.

Some movies are immoral (a matter of personal opinion) and are bad for people. Since it would be a practical impossibility to pick out those immoral movies, advertising of all movies should be banned in order to protect the people. Therefore, Charles Donnell, you can no longer advertise what movies you have scheduled, and Strauss Atkinson, if you plan to show another Billy Graham movie here, you cannot advertise it, either.

Those examples sound pretty far-fetched, don't they? But, if the Federal Government has the right to ban advertising for one product, it has the same right for all others.

We can all pretty well go along with the idea that no one should be allowed to advertise a product that is illegal to sell. We can see that no one should be allowed to advertise that they are peddling marijuana cigarettes, can't we?

It's illegal to sell liquor to minors. Ban liquor advertising on that basis? If you agree, remember it is also illegal to sell firearms and ammunition to minors, so we should also ban advertising of shotguns that come in so handy during duck season.

The idea that the Federal Government has the right to ban advertising of any legal product is indefensible.

If the Federal Government believes that it should have that right, it should not base the right on a series of statutes and Supreme Court decisions, but should call for an amendment to the Constitution giving that right. Then we, the people, would have a chance to express our opinion through a vote. We, ourselves, would decide whether the Federal Government can have the right to regulate the infinitesimal comings and goings of our daily lives.

A lot of you readers probably won't agree with this column. Those of you who have a different approach and a different idea are welcome to express your opinion in The Canyon News. Just write a letter, and sign it, please.—BC

The Canyon News,
Canyon, Texas

Dear Editor: My husband and I read with interest your Editorial in last week's Canyon News, in which you berated "Yankees" for not being able to speak English, because someone somewhere in the United States mispronounced the word "Hereford."

When a man doesn't have anything better to fill the Editorial Section of his Newspaper than tirades against people in some other section of the country just because their speech differs from his, it not only shows his ignorance, lack of breeding and poor manners, but what is worse, it shows his lack of Christian tolerance.

Today when we are all working and praying for World Peace it ill-behooves Newspaper Editors to run Editorials creating division in our own country.

Will God condemn a man because he mispronounces a word? Then why should you?

Furthermore, I believe it is very poor business on your part to print Editorials scolding and making fun of "Yankees" when some of your subscribers happen to fall in that category, and if any more of these Editorials appear I happen to know of one "Yankee" whose business you will lose. People won't pay money to be insulted, you know.

Sincerely,

But I can remember the first time I ever paid more than a dollar for a dinner. This was along about 1929 or 1930. The scene was the Menger Hotel in San Antonio in the "banana patio." The scenery would have made any repeat wonderful: banana and palm trees, moon and stars, a little orchestra playing soft Mexican music, a pool beside the table with goldfish flashing about, a chair with a back that came up to your head (real comfort!), a waiter with a quiet, courteous, deferential manner. The cooking was of the Old South. There were three dinners: $1, $1.25, $1.50.

With a grand gesture as much as to say, "We live only once," I said, "Bring the $1.25 dinner!" Go not to San Antonio seeking the banana patio. It is gone—along with such sumptuous fare for $1.25. In the scene of outdoor feasting, now is a sleek swimming pool. Progress, they call it. Maybe so, but I'm an unreconstructed old fogey.

Around the Town . .

By DOVIE CHERRY

Well, well, same column, new byline. Still seems strange to see it there, but a nice sort of strange. I'm not doing so bad though learn- ing to say Dovie Cherry even if I do still give people a blank look when they call me that. Guess my bluntest response yet was in my biology when I didn't even answer roll call.

Sorry, no column last week, but I was too busy having fun on our honeymoon. We had a wonderful time at Santa Fe. It was cold but not too cold, and just enough snow on the mountains to make a drive through them quite pleas- ant.

It was my first trip to Santa Fe and I was fascinated by the town, with its tenacious hold on the Spanish customs, architecture and language. One of the things I usually remember about a town is the smell. You know how some towns have a fresh, country smell of growing plants, some an indus- try smell of soot and gas, and some have a metropolis smell of automobiles and crowded restau- rants. With Santa Fe I have asso- ciated the peaceful smell of pinon smoke. Needless to say to you who have had the privilege of smelling pinon wood burn, the odor is pleasing to the nostrils and is invigorating in the cool winter air.

We brought back the pinon scent with us by purchasing a miniature adobe oven like the ones used by the primitive Indians. It is used to burn pinon incense. Skiing was the thing in Santa Fe. At evening, the skiers had a lively gab session over the progress and downfalls on the ski slopes. Bill and I decided a skier's day must not be complete if he didn't have at least one fall a day to tell about at the dinner table. The conversation spotlight was assured for the fellow who could tell how that big tree swerved out in front of him just as he gained speed on the down- grade.

Well, the honeymoon's over and I'm beginning to get the full view of the picture behind that little clause. I'm back pecking on the typewriter and also trying to bal- ance keeping house and putting something on the table which is not conducive to indigestion in the time budget.

While speaking of preparing di- gestible food, I might add that I made a booboo the other night. Not just a teensy, weensy booboo but a big, black, burly booboo. Despite the fact I have been cook- ing with recipes for years, I de- cided to rely on the advice that the best cooks are the ones who trust their success to their cook's intuition and memory and never use a recipe. I invented a chef's nightmare. Sadder but wiser I now know that my cook's memory is definitely fallible and that it can do a splendid job of con- fusing two similar recipes. The recipes for white loaf bread and fruit loaf bread just won't mix so don't try it.

Don't try it because it's expen- sive and exasperating. First at- tempt at making the fruit loaf, which, by the way, was what I wanted to make. I thought some- thing was unusual. "Oh," I said to myself, "Gal, you have made a blunder. You have added too much flour for the amount of sugar." I tried to figure out some- thing to make that work out but couldn't so I decided to forget that and start all over again. This time everything was going fine until I poured the milk in. Then that insidious little voice (is there such a thing as a cook's con- science?) said, "You have made blunder number two." Yep, but- termilk was needed no sweet milk and three tablespoons not 1½ cups.

To my former girl scout leaders I have to report. I did not lose my temper, no not once. I very calmly threw out the mixture, put up the ingredients, threw out the empty egg box, that was the last of the eggs as I had forgotten to get them at the grocery store that day, washed the mixing bowls and spoons, shut the cabinet door and quietly and disdainfully with dignity, removed my person from the interior of one over heated room, walked to the front room and pouted.

Never say die though. I tried again the next day. Hurray, suc- cess! We ate it, are still eating it and Bill smiled. So there.

Seems as though mistakes hap- pen to the best of us. Here at The News office last week we made a heartbreaker. All during the pre-valentine season we had request after request for valentine napkins and had to say we were sorry but we just didn't have any. Valentine's Day came and went and as we were packing away the valentine cards, tallys, etc., guess what we found. Yes, six dozen valentine napkins.

Anyone care to start their val- entine party shopping early this year and avoid the last-minute rush?

Canyon News cards are out for the special days coming up. There are a rather large selection of St. Patrick's cards and a large selection of Easter cards. In addition there are St. Patrick and Easter season paper napkins, tal- lies, cups and plates.

Arriving in time for the Easter season too were a shipment of Bibles and prayer books. The News office received revised stand- ard version of the Holy Bible in sturdy binding and cardboard binding and also the revised stand- ard version of the New Testament. There are also several Common Prayer books.

Canyonites have been journeying to other towns and states lately. Mr. and Mrs. Clay Cooper recent-

TIMED TO PERFECTION—Someone in Pesaro, Italy, has all the time in the Adriatic beach resort on his hands. He needs it, to keep this shrubby clock in tick-tock order. Dwarf shrubs form the numerals, flowers the center of the dial and white sand completes the face of the gar- dener's masterpiece.

Pork, Beef, Chicken Top Meats on Plentiful Food List for March

COLLEGE STATION—Homemak- ers will find more than a dozen favorite foods on the March plen- tiful list. Pork, beef and broilers and fryers top the meat list.

Supplies of all are heavier than a year ago with broilers and fryers up almost 50 per cent.

Sharp increases carryover more than offset production cutbacks and leaves the supplies of rice well above anticipated domestic and ex- port demands.

Salable stocks of potatoes are about 17 per cent above a year ago with heaviest supplies in the east and lightest in this area, says USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service. ly attended a national grocery- man's convention in Washington, D. C. They left Feb. 10 and spent five days in the nation's capital city. Mrs. Cooper is still enthu- siastic about the trip and says the five days spent in Washington were really worth the time and effort.

One of the highlights of their trip was dinner at which Rep. Walter Rogers was the Cooper's guest. Other grocerymen also asked the congressman to dinner. At dinners the convention heard various speakers including several congressmen and Gen. Curtis Le- May, commander-in-chief of the strategic air force.

The Cooper's concentrated as much touring as they were able in the five days they spent in Washington. They saw the Bu- reau of Engraving and saw and touched a $500,000 bill. They toured the Pentagon, Mt. Vernon and the many other scenic spots.

Besides touring Washington, the Coopers spent three days in New York. Mrs. Cooper said that while in Hyde Park it was snowing and they saw unusually beautiful scenes created by the snowfall.

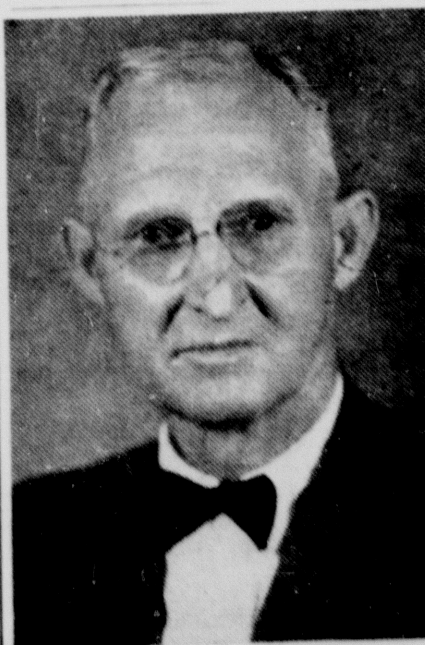

The Lincoln tubes in New York fascinated Mrs. Cooper. She said it amazed her to see and experi- ence traveling under the Hudson River by means of these tubes.

While on their trip, the Coopers saw "Holiday" in Cinerama and also a staging of "Dam Yankee." Mrs. Cooper said she believes that "Holiday" will be in Amarillo in the not-too-distant future and says, "Don't miss it. It's terrific. I ac- tually felt as if I were living in the movie."

Other Canyonites traveling are Rev. and Mrs. E. A. Irvine who are touring Detroit, Mich., and parts of the states including Wash- ington.

And Mrs. T. V. Reeves is about to conclude her tour to the Far East. She has arrived in Los Angeles and is expected to be home in a few days.

Brantley Presents Back on Strings

Meeting in the home of Mrs. Royal Brantley, the Music and Arts Club heard four different record string selections by Bach. Mrs. Brantley, who was introduced by the program chairman, Pauline Brigham, gave the program.

Mrs. Mae Coffee was elected to membership, and after refresh- ments the club engaged in the formal singing of Bach composi- tions.

Present were Grace Knighton, Audrey Sanders, Matilda Gaume, Cortez Dowlen, Pauline Brigham, Nell Findley, Margaret Harper, Wanda Winn, Rena Beth Barnard, Charlotte Brantley, Frances Bright.

Betty Bailey, Isabelle Robinson, Thelma Fulton, Donna Wilson, Elsie Wilbanks, Claudia Neelley and Mamie Newman.

WAY TO WALLOP THE IRISH

"It's all nonsense about the Irish being great fighters."

"How do you make that out?"

"Well, do you know Mike O'Raf- ferty who lives in our street? Last night my brother and I and a couple of other fellows knocked him silly."

At present rates of postage the Post Office Department is losing $1,000 a minute, according to postal officials. They urge approval of President Eisenhower's recom- mendations to Congress for a raise in postal rates.

DOUBLE DUTY

The other evening I overheard one lady ask another: "Do you do your own work or keep a maid?"

"Yes, I do," the other replied.

"Do which?" asked the first.

"Keep a maid and do my own work," came the weary rejoinder.

First class mail would cost four cents an ounce to send instead of the present three cents if a request for general increase in postal rates made to Congress by President Eis- enhower is put into law.

Missing Ducks Draws Federals

AUSTIN—Status of pre-nesting waterfowl population records is maintained as accurately as possible since future hunting regula- tions are involved, said W. S. Jen- nings, assistant director of wildlife restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said efforts to be as precise as possible were reflected lately when federal and state waterfowl authorities reported conflicting fig- ures in redhead duck numbers in the Laguna Madre area.

Since whereabouts of redheads has mystified authorities since the high October count along the low- er Texas coast, the technicians wanted to be more certain.

So they promptly arranged for a new survey to be made jointly by the federal and state observers.

Batenhorst-Artho Wedding Read; Couple To Make Home in Dumas

Vows were solemnized Feb. 13 in a double-ring ceremony for Theresa Batenhorst, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Batenhorst of UMBARGER, and Joe Artho, of Dimmitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Artho who live northwest of Dumas. Father Andrew Northaler officiated.

Double vases of white gladioli decorated the main altar and vases of white carnations decorated the side altars. The pews were marked with tiny blue and white ribbon bows centered with white wedding bells.

St. Mary's senior choir with Mary Janssen at the organ sang High Mass.

Viola Varren, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. The sister of the bride, Elaine Batenhorst, was the attending bridesmaid. They dressed identically in light blue crystalline dresses cut on princess lines, matching shoes and short white gloves. Their headpieces were crowns with short veils and they carried nosegays of white carnations.

Willie Artho, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Allan Brockman and Carol Lindemann.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white slipper satin with a chapel length train. Re-embroidered Chantilly lace was around the V-neckline and the tulle and lace skirt was re-embroidered with pearls. She wore a fingertip veil attached to a pearl crown and a single strand of pearls which was a gift of the bridegroom. The bride's bouquet was of pink rosebuds.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Batenhorst chose a navy dress with black accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy dress with navy accessories. Both corsages were white carnations.

A reception was given in the bride's home immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Artho was graduated from UMBARGER High School and is a member of Children of Mary Sodality. The bridegroom graduated from UMBARGER High School and is a member of Children of Mary Sodality. They will live in Dimmitt where he is employed by the Dimmitt Wheat Growers.

Meyer-Snapp Vows Are Read

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Meyer announce the recent marriage of their daughter, Annette, to Dewane Snapp, son of Bill Snapp.

The bride and bridegroom both attended Canyon High School. He recently returned from a tour of duty in Alaska, and they are now at home at 502 Kentucky, Amarillo.

Students Perform For Sue Hite Club

On guest day, Feb. 27, the Sue Hite Club met in the Branding Iron Theatre for a program on fine arts. Charlotte Brantley, who was in charge of the program, introduced college students from the music department who gave the program.

These students were JoAnn Standen from Tulla, Wayne Murphy, JoAnn Hill from Wayside, and Patsy Crossman from Pampa. They were accompanied by Mary Helen Demus.

The refreshments from which cookies and punch were served were decorated with miniature violin and musicians. Hostesses were Mrs. T. V. Crouse, Mrs. Burney Slack, Mrs. W. E. Miller and Mrs. Levi Cole.

Third TV Speech Program Sunday

Third in a series of television shows on semantics, "As We Say," will be presented Sunday at 2:10 p. m. over KGNC-TV by an advanced speech class at West Texas State College.

Third in a series of devotional life on the WT campus is slated Monday at 2:45 p. m. over KFDD-TV. The show will be given by the Methodist Student Center, with Joyce Ing, Sunray freshman, as director.

Mrs. Tom Foster suffered a heart attack Thursday and will be confined to her bed for about a month.

President Eisenhower jerked the platform out from under the Republican Party in Texas, and his Democratic supporters in the Lone Star State, when he vetoed the now famous natural gas bill.

"To sign the bill," said the President, "would risk creating doubt among the American people concerning the integrity of governmental processes." This statement referred to a $2,500 campaign contribution to a Senator, presumably for his vote favoring the measure.

Strong support was given Ike in Texas, when the native son ran for President, because of his State's Rights stand. Another factor was his expressed belief in the private enterprise system of free competition. This stand made Texans feel the President would sign the bill.

U. S. Senator Price Daniel said, "The President has made a great mistake."

Gov. Allan Shivers, Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and members of the State Railroad Commission joined in criticizing the President's action.

Jack Porter, the Republican party's national committeeman from Texas, said that he disagreed with the advice upon which the President's action was based. The veto will make Porter's job in Texas more difficult.

Public officials and oil men in general seem in agreement that passage over the President's veto is impossible. Therefore, Texas' next move may be a campaign to bring industries to Texas.

This, because gas produced in a state and used by manufacturers located within that same state is not subject to control by the Federal Power Commission.

Ike's veto was a set-back to Senator Daniel who promised to report his future political plans by March 1. "Delay in passage of the farm bill, and the Presidential veto of the natural gas bill, may mean that I will not be able to reach a decision as early as I had planned, regarding the governorship race," said Daniel. "But we may have to fight this out on the home front in Texas," he added — still paving the way for entry in the governor's race.

Two Question Marks

Two big question marks remain.

Are All Cold Remedies Alike?

No! For example, 666 is the wide-activity medicine, which combines 4 of the most effective, widely-prescribed drugs known, to relieve all cold miseries sooner. 666 is more potent and gives positive, dramatic, rapid relief from miseries of all kinds of colds. That's why 666 is unsurpassed in effectiveness. Try it.

No other cold remedy can match 666 liquid or 666 Cold Tablets.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

This session of Congress will seriously consider means of providing insurance protection against disasters of nature such as floods, earthquakes, similar catastrophes.

In Senate four different bills by Senators Herbert Lehman, John Kennedy, Frank Carlson, and Prescott Bush have been introduced. Each attacks problem in a different way.

Powerful impetus to this legislation is C. W. Harder, fact year just ended recorded more flood deaths than any year since 1927; more property damage than at any time since 1937 with losses over billion dollars.

Need is also focused by work being done by Small Business Administration in making reconstruction loans available to thousands of small business firms that would have otherwise perished from these disasters.

SBA was only created about two years ago due to the work of many Congressmen aided by the National Federation of Independent Business.

Although SBA was primarily set up to aid small business in securing capital, in past year, and especially this winter, it has proved a life saver by using its emergency disaster powers.

However, SBA can only make loans for reconstruction and must be paid back by businessmen suffering disaster through forces of Nature. Splendid as its work is, SBA assistance is no substitute for insurance benefits.

And in this problem of disaster insurance coverage there are several questions. Should government write insurance, or encourage private insurance companies by perhaps agreeing to subsidize companies for any losses sustained?

As is well known, insurance companies must play averages.

At present, if private companies were to offer flood insurance, it is not likely much business would be written in towns high in the Rockies, for example. On the other hand, people in the lower Mississippi delta area would be prime prospects. Thus, insurance companies would find all policies being held in areas where risk is great.

While attention is focused on this winter's flood damages, actually Congress will provide protection not only from flood losses, but also losses sustained from hurricanes, earthquakes, and other disasters. This, it is felt, would be a strong incentive for uniform premiums through the nation, as this range of disasters takes in practically entire nation.

Of course, there will be strong opposition to government taking step in this direction.

It is true such a step would have been quite radical 20 years ago or more, as such disasters were considered as part of the normal hazard of doing business.

But since that time government has chosen to strip profits of a large share of its profits in the form of taxes to carry on foreign giveaway programs and other global schemes. This has taken the resiliency out of the American business system it once had. Thus, business today is vulnerable to many conditions which once it could survive.

ing in Texas' current political scene are the intentions of Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey. No one seems to know what either will do.

Shepperd, only recently regarded as definitely planning retirement to private business, again is being discussed as a possible candidate, either for re-election or for governor.

His only comment has been that, "The frost is still on the dogwood," interpreted as "it's too early for political announcements."

A growing number of editorials urging him to continue in public office have appeared in several Texas dailies. The latest have been the Lufkin Daily News and the Cuero Daily Record.

It was the latter newspaper that broke the veterans' block-land-sales story. The Cuero Record commended Shepperd on his work in the veterans' land investigation.

For Ramsey the suggested possibilities include (1) running for governor, (2) running for re-election, (3) waiting for a possible U. S. Senate race, or (4) retiring to San Augustine. He has given no public hint.

Insurance Story

Texas' once-explosive insurance story is beginning to lag. Industry spokesmen hopefully termed the new stage a "curative period."

Both legislative investigating groups have adjourned. Though more hearings are expected, predictions are that they have about run their course in making headlines.

Carbons of 11 letters written by A. B. Shoemaker, head of the defunct US Trust and Guaranty Co., to the then Insurance Commissioner Garland Smith, made headlines.

However, the commissioners had reported earlier that they knew the firm was selling securities. What they didn't know was how to get them stopped.

Insurance commissioners are urging companies to file replies to solvency questionnaires ahead of the May 31 deadline, if possible. Those passing the test will be announced in groups, starting perhaps in March.

One company, which failed before the test, Texas Union County Mutual of San Antonio, was placed in permanent receivership by an Austin district court.

Newest name in the insurance picture is that of State Treasurer Jesse James. He is reported to be "dumping private ventures for which he might be criticized."

He owns 1001 shares of stock in the International Life Insurance Co., which leases the major part of its building to the state. He also has been criticized for selling boats to the state.

James says he knew nothing about the International lease; and that he already has sold his boat dealership to his daughter and her husband.

According to the State Treasurer, he now can afford to get rid of all his private ventures since the legislature increased his pay from $419 a month take home to an annual $17,500.

Legislative Code Sought
Former Gov. Dan Moody of Austin heads a special state bar committee named to work out a code of ethics for lawyer-legislators. Serving with Moody will be Bill Kerr of Midland, Page Keeton, dean of the University of Texas Law School, and probably three others.

Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen, chairman of the house investigating committee, requested the bar study.

He also suggested the Texas Legislative Council do similar research, including an evaluation of lobby laws and whether lawmakers are paid in proportion to their responsibilities.

Water Fight Hot

San Antonio and some 26 nearby towns are squabbling over rights to one of the state's most controversial resources — water.

San Antonio wants an appropriation of some 100,000 acre feet of water per year from the proposed Canyon Dam and reservoir near New Braunfels. Officials in communities in a 10-county area in the Guadalupe River basin have organized an opposing campaign.

A hearing on the San Antonio application is scheduled by the State Board of Water Engineers for March 26.

Mrs. Foster Attends Federated Meeting

Mrs. Margaret Foster will attend the Seventh District Federated Club Women convention in Plainview Thursday and Friday.

In addition to representing Canyon at the meeting, Mrs. Foster has been invited to represent the district before the Kiwanis Club in Plainview at the club's noon meeting Thursday.

Mrs. Foster will speak on the subject, "Are Women Taking Advantage of the Opportunities for which They Fought."

Pack 97, Troop 34 Top Window Trials

Cub Pack 97 and Scout Troop 34 won first place in window decorating for the Randall County District in the recent competition in Canyon and Happy. Pack 97 is sponsored by the Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist Church in Canyon and Troop 34 is sponsored by the American Legion Post in Happy.

Second place in the Cub division of the competition went to both Pack 31 and Pack 34, which were tied for the spot. Pack 31 is sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon and Pack 34 by the American Legion Auxiliary in Happy.

Second place in the Boy Scout division of the competition was won by Troop 66, sponsored by the First Christian Church in Canyon. Third place was taken by Troop 97, sponsored by the American Legion here.

Cash award of $5 will be presented by Southwestern Public Service Company to the first place winners in the Cub and Boy Scout divisions.

Five judges, representing both Canyon and Happy, judged the windows. They announced there was only two points difference between first and second places in both divisions.

"Did you notice any suspicious characters in the neighborhood?" the London magistrate inquired. "Spure," replied the new Irish policeman. "I saw but one man, and I asked him what he was doing there at that time o'night. Sez he: 'I have no business here just now, but I expect to open a bank in the vicinity later on.'"
"Yes," replied the magistrate, "and he did open a bank in the vicinity later on and stole $20,000."
"Begorra!" answered the policeman. "The man may have been a thafe, but he was no liar."

COUNTY OF RANDALL
STATE OF TEXAS
AN AGREEMENT
The plat of Pioneer Estates, as an addition to the City of Canyon, Randall County, Texas, is hereby approved and adopted and the following conditions and terms are to be considered in all ways binding upon the developers of Pioneer Estates and upon the City of Canyon.

The total cost of standard curb and gutter, not less than twelve inches in height and twenty-four inches across the base, will be borne by the developers. Standard curb and gutter to be installed by the developers before streets are opened to the public and before the lots involved are to be sold. The total cost of necessary valley gutters needed for proper drainage will be borne by the developers.

The total cost of all street excavation, six inch compacted caliche base, and not less than a two course penetration type paving will be borne by the developers, and will apply to all streets as they appear in the aforementioned plat, whether paved at the existing time or any future date.

The engineering on all curb and gutter and streets will be furnished by the City of Canyon.

The total cost of all sewer lines, manholes, lift stations, cleanouts and all labor connected therewith, shall be borne by the developers. The engineering on all sewer lines and accessory requirements shall meet with the approval of the city engineer. All prices for materials and installation costs shall be approved by the City Commission before work shall be started.

The total cost of all water line reconstruction, including the required fire hydrants and valves, shall be borne by the developers. The engineering on all water lines and fittings shall meet with the approval of the city engineer. All prices for materials and installation costs shall be approved by the City Commission before work shall be started.

The City of Canyon shall reimburse the developers for water and sewer construction; the rate of refund to be based on the number of houses completed on or before the 31st day of December of each year. Payment for the preceding year to be made from the General Fund of the City of Canyon not later than the 31st day of January.

The following lots in the Pioneer Estates shall be known as Development Number One and the figures given for payment by the city will refer to this development only: Lots 1 thru 3, Block 4; Lots 1 thru 3, Block 5; Lots 1 thru 3, Block 8; Lots 1 thru 3, Block 9; Lots 1 thru 7, Block 6; Lots 9 thru 15, Block 3; Lots 7 thru 11, Block 4; Lots 4 thru 9, Block 5; Lots 8 thru 11, Block 6; Lots 10 thru 16, Block 5; Lots 4 thru 21, Block 8; Lots 1 thru 5, Block 7; Lots 4 thru 16, Block 9; and Lots 1 thru 6, Block 10.

The City of Canyon hereby agrees to pay back to the developers of Pioneer Estates the total material and installation costs of water and sewer lines only over a period of time not to exceed ten years from the date hereof. No extension of time over and above the said ten years is to be granted, except that in time of national emergency, whereby building is restricted, the length of the emergency shall be added to the ten year term of this contract. The City does further agree to pay to the developers $326.75 for each residential building completed within the year according to the aforementioned terms. The rate of payback hereby mentioned is based on 66 units which constitutes 75% of the lots in Development Number One.

In no one year will the City of Canyon pay back to the developers more than 20% of the Total cost of water and sewer installations. Any amount exceeding 20% will be considered a carryover to be added to the payback for the following year.

The rates for payback applicable to Development Number One shall not be binding upon future development in Pioneer Estates. Paybacks for future development within Pioneer Estates will be left to the members of the City Commission of the City of Canyon, Texas, holding office at the time the development takes place.

Nothing in this agreement is to be construed as to place upon the City of Canyon any obligation for participation in the costs of curb and gutter and/or paving that will be done in Pioneer Estates at this or any later date.

The City of Canyon will not be liable for the payment of interest for any obligations of the developers or for any accrued paybacks due the developers.

Income Tax Facts

Deductions Reduce Your Income Tax

(This is one of a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Texas Society of Certified Public Accountants.)

"Deduction" is the taxpayer's favorite word. Every dollar you can deduct in figuring your tax puts 20 cents to 91 cents in your pocket, depending upon the tax bracket you're in.

Medical deductions were discussed in a previous article. Here are some of the other deductions you may be able to take if you itemize them instead of using the short 1040A form or the standard 10% deduction:

You can deduct your contributions to religious, charitable, scientific, literary and educational organizations, and to non-profit cemeteries.

Include contributions of goods at their fair value, as well as cash, but not your personal services (blood donations are regarded as a personal service and not deductible).

If you contribute stocks, real estate or other property, you can deduct their value at the time of the gift, even if it is considerably more than the original cost to you.

You are ordinarily not permitted to deduct a contribution which you have only pledged and not paid during the tax year.

You can deduct up to 20% of your income for any eligible charitable contributions, and up to 30% if at least 10% was in gifts to religious organizations, schools or hospitals.

Interest you pay on personal loans and other indebtedness is deductible.

If there is a mortgage on your home, be sure to find out what part of your payments is interest and deduct it on your tax return. The same applies to automobile financing and installment purchases.

If some of your credit buying involves "carrying charges" instead of specified interest, you are allowed to deduct such charges up to 6% of the average monthly unpaid balance if they are listed separately in your contract or bills.

Most taxes you paid for yourself or a member of your household, except federal taxes, are deductible. However taxes are not deductible when included in the price and not separately charged to the customer.

If you paid someone to care for your child under 12 because that was necessary while you were at work, you may be entitled to a "child care" deduction of as much as $600. This deduction also applies to the care of any dependent who was mentally or physically incapacitated. Check the instructions to see whether you qualify.

Don't overlook deductions for losses due to storms, fires, floods, theft, and accidents not due to your own negligence.

The way to figure such losses is explained in the instructions. Any insurance or other compensation you may have received for the damage must be subtracted from the amount of loss. Miscellaneous deductions to which you may be entitled include union dues, purchase of necessary tools of your trade, fees to employment agencies, expenses you incurred for the benefit of your employer, and some alimony payments.

The instructions that come with your tax forms give further information. Help is also available from the Internal Revenue Service which urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you need outside assistance.

Poole's Farm & Ranch Supply

A bunch of us who were teenagers during World War I got into an animated discussion of "war effort" not long ago. In those days, the ladies recalled, one took part in the war effort by knitting khaki socks, making gauze bandages and eating cornbread.

"I've often wondered what one-legged giant got the sock I knit," one woman observed. Seems she was about 15, had no knack whatever with knitting needles. The sock grew and grew until the Red Cross chairman finally offered to take it and "finish off the toe." More than likely, its creator said, she finished off the sock instead, by ravelling it and salvaging the yarn.

Certainly, no one could ever have knit another to match it. So if it got into the mainstream of war action at all, it would have had to go to an amputee.

"I got one of those pairs of khaki socks," one of the men recalled. "They had a note inside with a name and address. Evidently the woman was sure it would go across the sea, so she put the note in as a morale booster. Only I got the socks and the note, and was stationed at San Antonio, about 100 miles from her hometown."

He said he borrowed his c-o-s coupe one weekend and drove over. The woman was about 50 years old, had a daughter his age. He said she was the most embarrassed woman he ever saw, sent him dancing with her daughter, "and nobody had a good time." But as long as the war lasted, she wrote him letters and sent candy or cake almost every week.

If we all had it to do over, we agreed, we'd stick to eating cornbread as the surest way "to help the cause."

Feed Songbirds In Cold Spells

AUSTIN—Since this is the season when sudden cold spells endanger birdlife, Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, asked Texans to be prepared to scatter feed if the ground becomes covered with sleet or snow.

"Song birds are beginning to throng into Texas preparatory to the northward migration," he said. "Thus they are very vulnerable to sudden late winter storms. It is desirable to preserve our bird population because of their great benefit to our economy mainly through control of harmful insects."

Phone Fisherman Gets His Number

AUSTIN—A Houston man got a double charge, both unexpected, when he was caught using an electric device to stun fish, according to E. M. Sprott, director of law enforcement for the Game and Fish Commission.

He got two jail terms—one for "telephoning fish" and the other for fishing without a license. The former reference is a commonly used device comprising an old fashioned telephone with its hand cranked generator.

The director of law enforcement said the practice is less common than formerly because courts, like the one handling the Houston case, have been increasingly severe. Illegal fishing activities got another man into trouble, as listed in the commission's latest arrest report. He was identified as a Rowlett man. Offense: "Shooting fish with a shot gun."

Sprott pointed out that the legal means of taking fish do not include use of firearms.

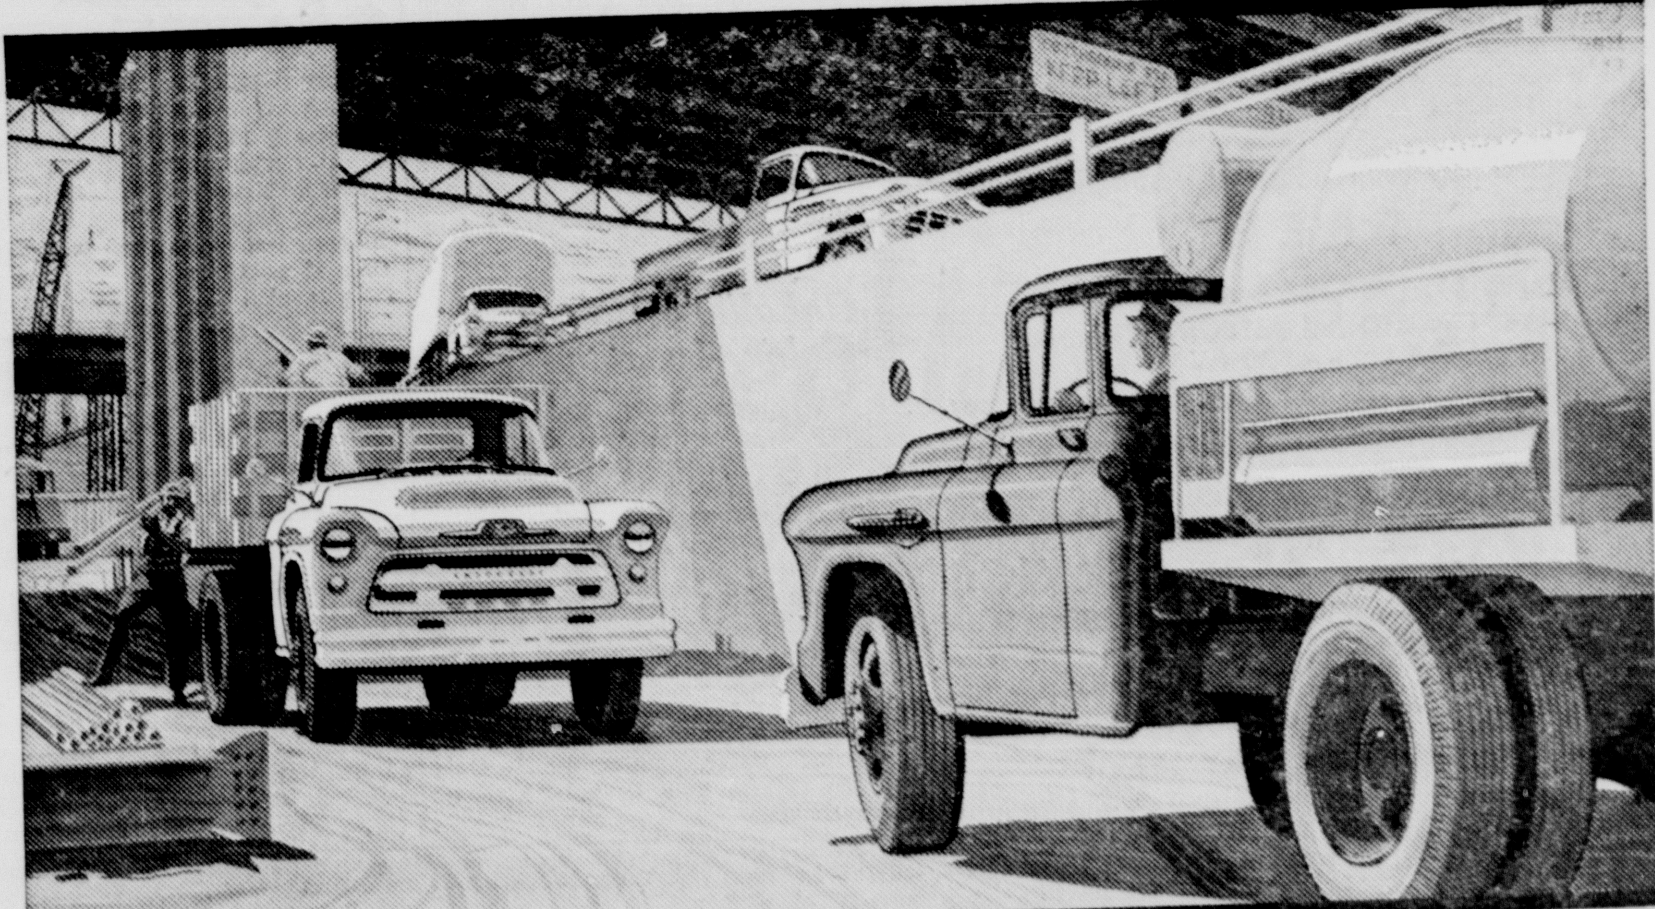

Another seldom listed offense cost a Houston man a fine of $25 plus costs. It was for running deer with dogs. This once promiscuous custom now is limited to a comparatively small area in East Texas, and then is permitted only during the legal deer hunting season.

Night hunting again involved the largest group of offenders. Fifty-two persons were charged with this offense. Some of them paid dearly, such as a Milam man who was levied $100 on each of three charges, plus costs. It cost an Austin man a total of $200 on three charges under similar conditions.

which was given to the commission, stating that commissioners who act as road overseers may be paid an additional $100 a month over the regular salary. The commissioners are also allowed $50 a month car expense.

Cummings told the commission that their regular salaries would be upped $50 a month for payment as road overseers, which in effect, will be the same as payment of $100 a month for car expenses except that income taxes and social security will be taken from the $50 payment for overseers.

Randall County was asked last week to cooperate with Potter County and the City of Amarillo in paving Bell Avenue. State Highway Engineer Guy Lott told a meeting of representatives of the three governments that the state would provide the paving if the two counties and the city would provide the right of way.

Neither Amarillo nor Potter County have taken any action yet on the proposal.

Money Forum Is AAUW Program

All Canyon clubwomen are invited to hear the "Money Management Forum" sponsored by the AAUW in Cousins Hall Ballroom at 7:30 p. m. Monday.

The forum, under the direction of Claudia Neelley, will include discussions on investment, banking, insurance and managing money at home, subject pertinent to the modern woman.

Each topic will be presented by an authority on the subject to be discussed.

The speakers include Don Standley, vice president of the First National Bank, J. D. Barker, attorney, Dr. R. A. Neblett, George Blackwell, insurance agent, and Lowell Harrison, history professor at West Texas State.

Any person interested in the forum is urged to attend.

Refugees

Many people in Canyon and the vicinity have been wondering about the possibility of adopting orphan children from among the refugees. The Refugee Relief Act provides for the entry of 4,000 orphaned children not older than two at the time of adoption.

"A child is considered an orphan only if he has lost both parents through death, disappearance, abandonment or desertion, or separation or if he has lost one of his parents due to one of these circumstances and the remaining parent is incapable of providing proper care and has released the child irrevocably for emigration.

"A child qualifies for visa as an orphan . . . if he has been lawfully adopted abroad by an American citizen and spouse or if a U. S. citizen and spouse have given assurances that once he is admitted to the United States, they will adopt him in the United States and will care for him properly."

E. P. Wesley from California visited his brothers, G. E. and J. W. Wesley, several days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ketner of San Antonio and formerly of our community visited friends in this vicinity from Wednesday until Friday of last week.

Those celebrating Earl Ketner's birthday in the G. E. Wesley's home Wednesday were the Ketners and Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Shipman.

Those enjoying supper in the H. H. Shipman home Wednesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wesley, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wesley, E. P. Wesley and Lavena Amerson.

F. O. Amerson visited Wednesday evening in the G. E. Wesley home.

Those enjoying the birthday dinner in the Wesley home Thursday noon for G. E. Wesley were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Ketner, E. P. Wesley, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Wesley and Lavena Amerson.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wesley visited their children, the E. W. Wesleys, and D. L. Whitsons, at Littlefield Thursday night. They were in Muleshoe Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Wilson and C. P. Rogers were in Muleshoe several days the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Branlett and children visited Sunday in the paternal E. W. Schaeffer home and attended the ordination services in the afternoon for Billie Jo Hall.

Mrs. Ora Evans returned from Glenrose last Monday.

We were glad to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans to church Sunday. They later visited with Mrs. Serena Bryan and Tom Rogers.

Mrs. Georgia Rogers was welcomed back to church services Sunday, the first time since her recent operation.

We have had one real old-time dust storm.

We were glad to welcome Lora Odom and Song Carol and Mrs. Lois Stewart and children to the ordination services Sunday. Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Odom are sisters of Mrs. John Patterson.

Jessee Garcia and children and Pete Garcia's mother all visited with Pete and Maria Garcia Sunday.

Caballero Water Color Accepted

A painting by Dr. Emilio Caballero, head of the West Texas State College art department, has been accepted for the seventh annual Texas Water Color Society exhibition in San Antonio.

The exhibit will be displayed March 4-18 at the Witte Memorial Museum. A number of prizes and awards are being offered to winning entries.

Dr. Caballero, who is a member of the society, will exhibit his water color, "Interlude." Only two entries may be submitted by each artist.

Baptists Ordain Four New Deacons

The First Baptist Church will ordain four deacons at 7:30 p. m. Sunday.

Those to be ordained are Raymond Raillard, Joe Gill, George Caviness, and Oscar Hinger. They were elected along with George Graham, who is already an ordained deacon, to serve a four-year term with the active deacons of the church.

The five deacons retiring this year are Joe Byrd, John Wright, C. N. Cosby, Dr. Lee Johnson, and W. B. Harris. These men will be eligible for re-election next year.

The church elects those who are to serve by secret ballot.

Heart Sunday Here Nets Nearly $600

Almost $600 was contributed by Canyon citizens to the Randall County Heart Fund in the two-hour drive during the afternoon of Heart Sunday.

An incomplete total announced by county campaign chairman A. W. Lair showed $561.74 had been collected during the afternoon. Other contributions from those who were not at home during the drive are expected in the mail this week.

The 34 volunteer workers who canvassed the city Sunday left contribution envelopes at those homes where the residents were away at the time of the drive. They should be mailed to the campaign in care of Dudley Bayne, the treasurer, or Lair.

Lair said the amount contributed by the citizens showed the awareness of the people to the dangers of heart disease, the nation's number one killer. He said he wished to thank those who contributed and also to express his appreciation and give the thanks of the organization to the volunteer workers.

Those who worked during the Heart Sunday drive were J. E. Flynn, Burney Slack, Bill Miller, J. T. Harp, Clarence Kincaid, Emmitt Smith, C. E. Thompson, Wayne Wirt, John Taylor, R. B. Allen, Ed Williams, J. L. Gilmore, L. S. Johnston, W. B. Harris, Clay Cooper, John McBride, Guy Harrison, E. E. Plank, Boone McClure, Raymond Raillard, A. C. Haley Jr., George Dudley Moore, Barbara Beck, Alice Gene Brotherton, Pat Hubbard, Bob Bellah, Don Standley, Jack Jennings, Wesley Cox, Bud Parker, Lindsey Taylor, Lynn Hulse, James Cole and Avert Lair.

4 Canyon Students Attend FTA Meet

Four members of the Canyon High School chapter of the Future Teachers of America will attend the seventh annual state convention Friday and Saturday in Denton.

More than 800 students from about 100 Texas high schools are expected to attend the convention, which features the theme of "Teachers—Our Hope for Tomorrow."

Attending from Canyon will be LaVerne Riley, district financial secretary, Theresa Mickey, secretary of the Canyon club, Janice Wright and Sara Jo Hickman. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Irene Beata.

This district of FTA is limited to only 80 delegates to this year's convention, which accounts for the small number of delegates from Canyon. The group from here will leave early Friday morning and return home Sunday.

Recent guests in the home of Mrs. G. B. Combs were Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Lowe of Gruver who spent the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Hart who were Saturday guests, and Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Atkins of Big Spring who visited with Mrs. Combs Monday.

MRS. DICK DAWDY, 2103 6th Avenue: "With our new baby, we're looking forward to such an easy and simple solution to our laundry needs with our Whirlpool Automatic Electric Dryer."

Boiling clothes is out of date, but still a good idea for clothing used by persons with contagious or infectious diseases. Wash clothes as usual, wring out as much as possible. Place them in detergent solution and put on stove. Bring to boil; boil 10 minutes and rinse thoroughly.

What do you use in the sink? Most women use a drain stopper, a sponge with a handle, a pot scratcher and a large sponge. You can make life easier for yourself if each is a different color so you won't pull out the plug when you reach under the suds to pick up the scratcher.

Hurry, hurry, hurry. Everything is quicker today. Now there's even an electronic reducing machine that'll take pounds off while a homemaker plans her week's menus. The Relaxation people dream of every woman's being able to wear a leotard with impunity.

ORVILLE BRUMMETT, Thompson Hardware: "Imagine what it's like to carry loads like this out to that old clothes line every week. With the new Kelvinator Automatic Electric Dryer you can throw away the basket and save those wearisome steps."

Keep Cleaning Aids Near Working Space

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

CUT the time and work involved in the daily round of picking up the house by storing supplies where they'll be most useful. You can save steps by doubling up on everyday cleaning supplies, especially if yours is a two-story house.

Tomorrow morning as you straighten up the bedrooms and bath, make a mental note of how many trips you make to other parts of the house for supplies which could be stored more conveniently. I made three trips up and down the stairs the other morning, which could have been avoided if I'd had a carpet sweeper, spot-cleaning fluid, a sponge and small bucket upstairs.

Bedroom rugs attract lint, threads, bobby pins and powder. In the children's bedrooms, the rugs may be the catch-all for many other foreign scraps. A good carpet sweeper cleans them up in short order and, of course, simplifies the vacuum cleaning. I wouldn't give up closet room to house our monstrous old sweeper, but today's new models, some of which store flat against the wall, are clean and neat as well as compact.

Hanging up clothes is the time you discover the spot on the dress or suit. A small bottle of cleaning fluid and a cloth kept on the closet or bathroom shelf encourages you to tackle the job promptly. I buy a large bottle for the laundry room and pour a few ounces into a smaller bottle for upstairs emergencies.

A small pan or plastic bucket plus a sponge stored in a drawer in our bathroom is ready to help me sponge up sticky table tops and window sills as I find them.

Regular cleansers and scouring powders are often kept within easy reach in the bathroom but how about the mirror-cleaners? Bathroom and bedrooms have the mirrors we sense to keep any compound you use handy instead of on a shelf in use the most so it makes more the remote cleaning closet downstairs.

Do you raise a cloud of dust when you sweep? Well, it's just going to settle back down again. Now there's a magnetic blade that attracts dirt and dust and makes it cling together. It's called Mag-netik.

NEWS LETTER

FROM CONGRESSMAN WALTER ROGERS
OF THE 18TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

Pending Legislation

The Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce is presently hearing witnesses both for and against legislation that is designed to prohibit the advertising of alcoholic beverages in interstate commerce.

The questions involved have been a matter of public concern for some time but became more pressing and perhaps more controversial with the advent of television.

Although there is vigorous objection by many to the advertising of alcoholic beverages through any medium, whether it be a distilled or fermented beverage, the most vigorous objection is the type of advertising that has been employed through the medium of television.

It is being contended that the individuals in their homes, together with their children, are captive audiences in many respects, and that the alluring and appealing programs used to promote these products are proving very detrimental to the entire nation and are contributing measurably to juvenile delinquency.

The bill before the committee would prohibit the advertising of such beverages through any medium of advertising in interstate commerce, including newspapers, periodicals, etc.

Texas was ably represented in the witnesses supporting passage of the bill in the persons of a former Amarilloan, Dr. Caradine R. Hooten, executive secretary, Methodist Board of Temperance, Dr. W. R. White, president of Baylor University at Waco; Dr. Sam Morris, of San Antonio, and Albert F. Tucker, executive secretary, Texas Alcohol-Narcotic Education, Inc., of Dallas.

The President's Health

The news that President Eisenhower was recovering his health in good order was welcomed by all here as it was by everyone throughout the nation.

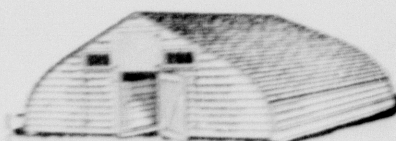

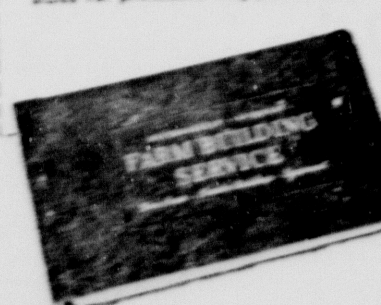

It is regrettable that there were attempts to inject partisan politics into the matter concerning President Eisenhower's health.

I might say that in and around Washington I have found, without exception, a feeling of gratitude in the hearts of everyone that Mr. Eisenhower is recovering, not alone because he is the President, but mostly because he is a human being.

We all hope that his health continues to improve and that his recovery is permanent.

New Draft Directive Will Relieve Fathers While Quotas Are Down

AUSTIN—Official advice was mailed to Texas draft boards by state Selective Service headquarters Friday which directed the boards to divide files of all 1-A men into six groups in the new order of calling men up for service.

This directive will cause younger men to be taken and virtually will relieve fathers and men above age 26 from chance of being drafted, as long as service quotas are as low as they are. Colonel Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said Thursday.

Here is the way draft boards will divide the 1-A files in the new order of liability for service:

The first liable group: Draft delinquents who have reached 19, with the oldest being selected first.

The second liable group: Volunteers up to the age of 26, in the order in which they have volunteered.

The third liable group: Non-volunteers 19 through 25 who do not have a child, with the oldest being selected first.

The fourth liable group: Non-volunteers 19 through 25 who do have a child, with the oldest being selected first.

The fifth liable group: Non-volunteers age 26 or above, with the youngest being selected first.

The sixth liable group: Non-volunteers between 18½ and 19, with the oldest being selected first.

Colonel Schwartz pointed out there will be hardly any in the first liable group because there are not many delinquents. He said that 29% of inductees in December and January were volunteers and predicted at least that percentage, if not more, in the months ahead.

Colonel Schwartz said that the majority of inductees would come from the third liable group, consisting of single and fatherless married men. He said that, without a doubt, calls would be filled from this group and the volunteers.

He predicted that, unless calls go much higher, no one in the fourth, fifth, and sixth liable groups would be drafted.

The new draft regulations will operate to take younger men into service, but not the youngest on the draft rolls, Colonel Schwartz said.

"In December and January, 66% of the men drafted in Texas were 23 and above," he commented. "I expect this age level to drop drastically, with those being drafted dropping to as low as 19."

The state director of Selective Service issued a warning to prospective fathers. He pointed out that law and regulations place responsibility upon a man to advise his local board at once of birth or pregnancy in his family.

"If he neglects to advise his board of this or any other change in status prior to getting an order to report for induction, he will be inducted," Colonel Schwartz said. He counseled men to be alert in keeping their local boards posted.

He also pointed out that the law requires all men registered with draft boards under present law to keep those boards advised of change of address, no matter what their age.

Baptist Festival March 6 at Wayland

Wayland College will be host for the annual District 9 Music Festival for Baptist churches on March 6, according to W. E. Steward, chairman of the Wayland Division of Fine Arts, who is the local chairman.

Virgil Coffee, music-education director of First Baptist Church, Levelland, is district chairman.

Assisting with arrangements and with the festival will be V. F. Forderhase, state secretary of the music department of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, and Royce Dowell, music-education director of Trinity Baptist Church, Lubbock.

Registration for those unable to pre-register begins at 4 p. m. and must be completed by 5:30 p. m. March 6, so that secretaries may have time to make a complete schedule of events before the festival begins at 6 p. m. This scheduling is a new feature and is expected to accelerate the movement of the program, making it more efficient.

A second change is that all participants are required to have memorized their music. This has been done to amplify the quality of the performances and to make the festival more enjoyable to the listeners.

All Baptist churches in District 9 have been invited to participate in this growing program. The festival offers an opportunity for music directors to evaluate their own music programs in view of accomplishments of the other churches of the district.

Competition seeks to intensify quality and this is the eventual goal of the festival program. Each entry will receive a written opinion of a panel of judges, which this year is composed of Wayland College fine arts teachers, Steward, Dr. Michael Daia, David Appleby, Mrs. Maude Meredith and Julie O. Foster.

Texas Is Topic For Book Club

"Texas in World Affairs" was the program topic for the Woman's Book Club meeting on Feb. 22. Mrs. S. H. Condon and Mrs. G. E. Kiser appeared on the program.

It was pointed out that even though Texas is not in a strategic position politically speaking, the state, because of well-qualified individuals, is well represented in national government.

In the business session Mrs. Joe Gibson was elected delegate to the state convention which will meet in Plainview March 1, 2 and 3.

Mrs. L. A. Donnell, president, announced that Mrs. K. E. Freize would accept articles to be sent to the state hospital at Wichita Falls. Among articles needed are clothing, games, dress materials, threads, stamped patterns for hand work, costume jewelry, or any other item that would contribute to the comfort of the patients or which would help them occupy their time.

Major Ronald C. Force, consulting psychologist at the Amarillo Air Base, will be the speaker for the meeting on March 14. His subject will be, "Progress in the Field of Mental Health."

Members attending the meeting were Mrs. Alfred Bellah, Mrs. H. A. Brown, Mrs. C. R. Burrow, Mrs. Ray Campbell, Mrs. H. E. Campbell, Mrs. A. A. Clark, Mrs. Condon, Mrs. James P. Cornette, Mrs. John Davis, Mrs. Donnell, Mrs. Freize, Mrs. Joe Gibson, Mrs. Walter Graham, Miss Edna Graham, Mrs. Charles Harter, Mrs. Lee Johnson, Mrs. Kiser, Mrs. T. B. McCarter, Mrs. T. S. Maxwell, Mrs. C. A. Murray, Mrs. R. A. Neblett, Mrs. Irving SoRelle, Mrs. Fred Standley and Miss Darthula Walker.

TED C. CONNELL

State Commander Speaks at Meet

The spring meeting of the posts of the Veterans of Foreign Wars from Randall, Deaf Smith, Armstrong, Donley, Collingsworth, Childress, Hall, Briscoe, Swisher, Castro, Parmer, Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Motley and Cottle counties will convene in Littlefield on Saturday and Sunday.

The principal speaker for the meeting will be Ted C. Connell of Killeen, Commander in Texas.

At the age of 30, Connell is one of the youngest men ever to be elected to the office of Department Commander of the Department of Texas of the VFW. He had previously held the offices of senior vice commander and junior vice commander, and commander of district 14, and was recognized as the outstanding district commander in Texas.

Connell served in the Pacific with the 316th Tank Destroyer Battalion, 98th Division, for 30 months during World War II. He owns and operates Connell Chevrolet Company in Killeen.

Vicki Ann Weaver Has Birthday Party

Vicki Ann Weaver entertained a group of friends with a party on her 12th birthday Feb. 24.

After games were played and presents were opened, refreshments were served to Anne Guthrie, Jane Jarrett, Dolores Miller, Judy Roberts, Jeanie Gillham, Wanda Bacon, Kay Jarnagin, Kathy Hinger, Pamela Richard, Cheryl Ann McClure, Linda Phillips, Lynda Troth, Barbara Banks, the honoree, her mother, Mrs. D. R. Weaver, and her grandmother, Mrs. I. W. Scott.

Westside Club Sees Demonstration

The Westside Home Demonstration members attended a demonstration at Wayne Wirt Electric Wednesday morning. After the demonstration the group met in the home of Mrs. Ed Bourn for a sack lunch.

In the afternoon Mrs. Mona Hildreth, H. D. agent, gave "Put Your Best Foot Forward" as the program.

Refreshments were served to 15 members and one visitor. Mrs. Dick Barrett will be the hostess on March 7.

If you have a home dryer, you'll find that starched clothes come out much better than they do from the line. Just stop the dryer before the articles are bone dry. Take 'em out when they're just to ironing dampness.

Harried mothers in many areas are looking forward with anything but pleasure to the annual establishment of daylight saving time.

As the little birds trust the mother bird, so let men trust God. If a sparrow cannot fall without God's attention, if He counts the hairs of our head... why do we fear (Mat. 10:29-31)? Worry about future security? God is the security for those who trust Him. Your Heavenly Father feeds the birds, and you are of far more value than they (Mat. 6:26). "Blessed are they who hunger for God's good things; they shall be filled." In childhood we needed mother and welcomed her... as adults we need God and ignore Him. In prosperity we forget God, the Bible, the church; but when disaster comes we want them all.

As your days so shall your strength be (Deut. 33:25). He will cover you with His feathers, and under His wings shall you trust (Psalms 91:4). Then why not trust God where you cannot see; the plan is His, the promise yours. "Blessed are they."

Designers Dream Is Now Reality

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

A laundry as richly appointed as a library may be just what you need to avoid those washday blues. And you can have one just as soon as you strike uranium. Take one last look at your mountain of dirty clothes waiting to be washed, at Junior's blue jeans, more mud than fabric, and at the soggy weather that means drying the laundry in the kitchen or basement. Then come with me.

Not long ago, I walked into a designer's de luxe dream of what a home laundry could be. I was told this was "practical" because all the appliances used are available. Black walnut paneling accented by satin-finished chrome encased the less glamorous machinery.

Only a glass door on top of the counter and a stainless-steel door set in the side gave a hint of what lay behind the polished wood.

Speaking in my best hushed library voice, I asked what was behind the walnut paneling along top of the unit. Expecting first editions, it was something of a letdown to discover soap and bleach. No cabinet doors stick shut in this dream. These doors are counter-balanced and swing upwards at the touch of a finger.

Vigorously exercising my imagination, I tried to see my week's wash piled up on the pale-yellow, ceramic-tile counter. The automatic washing machine turned out to be under the glass door set flush with the counter top. Push-button controls to govern almost any conceivable type of load (from delicate fabrics to heavy denims) are set discreetly on a panel above the machine.

The electric dryer and its controls (push-button type) are next to the washer.

Next in this stately wood-paneled line-up is the ironer. This, mounted on the inside of a heavy panel, pivots into sight with a gentle push on one side.

It's unlikely, but just suppose that the rigors of pushing the buttons or transferring the clothes from washer to dryer left you with a hair out of place, or a slightly shiny nose. Pause a moment, push another button and up rolls a flexible door in another cabinet at the end of the counter. Here is a mirror, shelves for cosmetics and comb and brush.

Included in the layout is a 50-gallon electric hot-water heater, also concealed in paneled elegance.

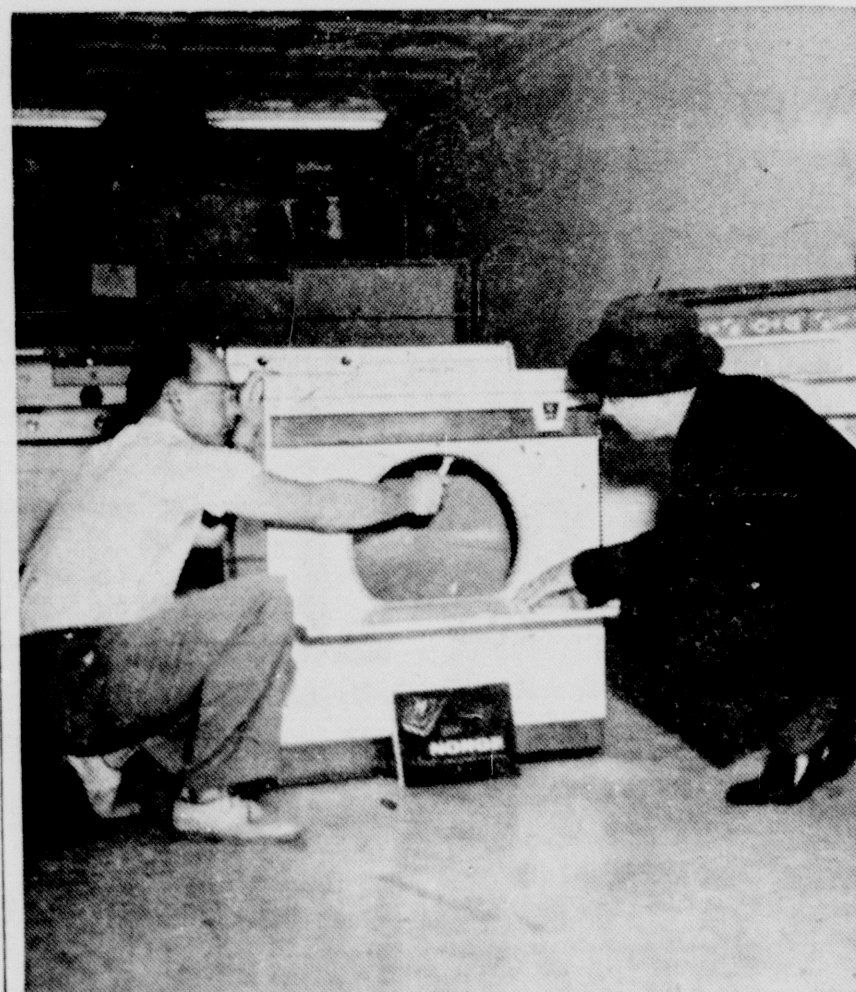

Perhaps the "laboratory" look is on its way out in laundries as well as kitchens. This dream laundry is beautiful.

But a practical question kept nagging me: What will the service repairman say if he's called to fix a rattling motor, beautifully built in behind wood and tile? This question, I was told, is asked by many homemakers who see the model installation. The answer is that in real homes, the architect would take service and maintenance into consideration when he drew up the plans.

Well, let's get back to reality. So far, no one has figured out a push-button way to sort the clothes, put them into the machine and store them back in the drawers, clean and dry.

MRS. W. D. WALKER, 1101 6th Avenue: "Without my Wizard automatic electric dryer I never would have made it through the bad weather. Housewives aren't the only ones who benefit with the electric clothes dryer, the children wore sunshine fresh clothes during the snow."

DALE KILLINGSWORTH, Radio Appliance: "It is easy to show the wonder of drying clothes electrically, even to the men who want to make laundry problems easier for their families with our new Norge Automatic Electric Dryer."

Electric Dryers Take Synthetics

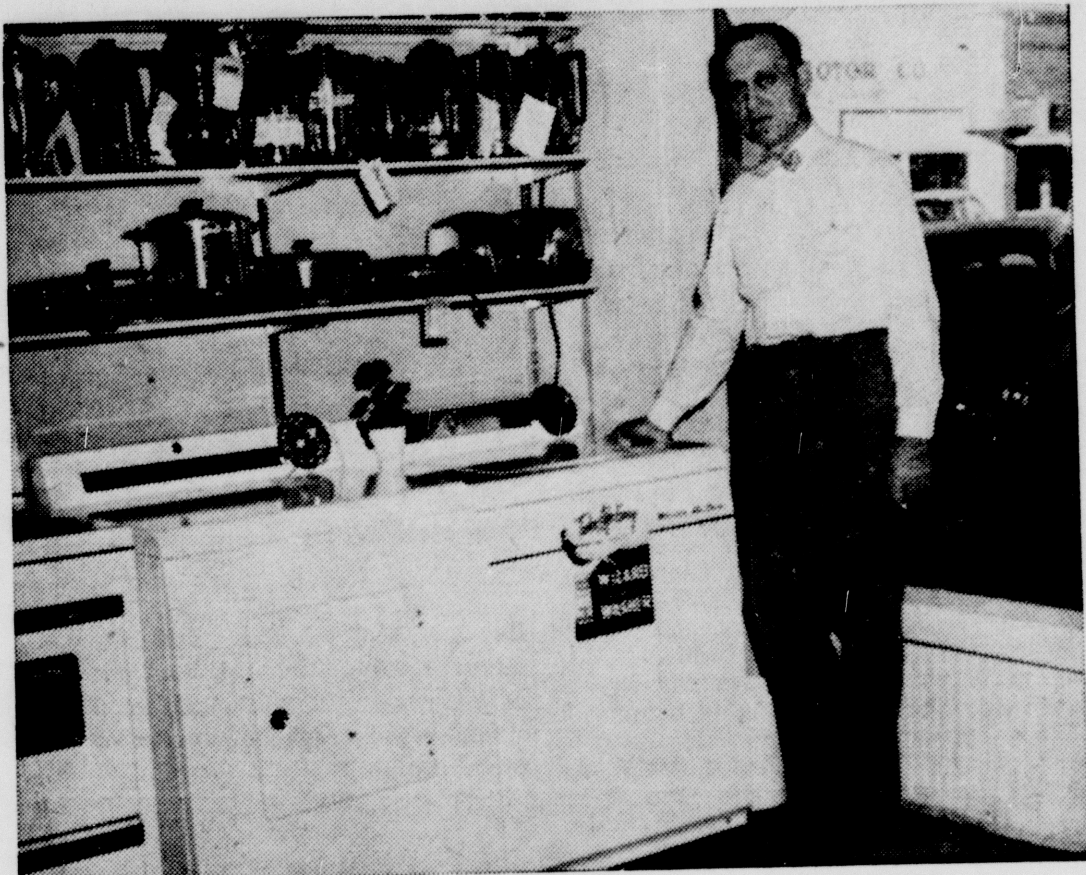

Just as the homemaker has gotten over the wash-by-hand habit with synthetics, she is now learning to dry these same synthetics the modern automatic way — with an electric dryer, says Mrs. Julia Kiene, manager of the Westinghouse Home Economics Institute.

These new man made fabrics have in some ways complicated our washing, drying and ironing habits, she went on. The characteristics of these fabrics are so different from what we have become accustomed to that we must change some of our washday habits in order to get full benefit from them. However, once we learn the names and characteristics of the new fabrics, our problems are simplified.

For instance, Orlon, Acrilan and Dynel are somewhat like wool in their characteristics. They can have a soft wooly feeling and when they are made into knitted garments they should be handled like wool. Wool as you know does not like too much heat so clean, fresh air is probably the best way to dry wools or wool-like synthetics, the nationally known home economist stated.

Fortunately, manufacturers of automatic laundry equipment have come to the homemaker's aid in this situation. On the market today are a number of electric clothes dryers having a "No Heat" setting which makes them ideal for these types of fabrics. When the "No Heat" setting is selected on the Heat Selector Dial, the garments are tumbled gently while clean fresh air is blown into the revolving basket — through and around the clothes. Because of the drying properties of synthetics, they dry quickly, come out beautiful and fluffy as snow. This method of drying keeps the garments wrinkle free with no shrinkage and looking like new.

MRS. CARL EUGENE HAIR, 1710 8th Avenue: "With our Hotpoint Automatic Electric dryer, the children can enjoy the sunshine outdoors while their clothes are being dried sunshine-fresh indoors."

New on the market are non-woven rayon draperies. They are several layers of rayon fibers, pressed together with heat. To a degree, they resemble the non-woven cotton napkins. They are cleaned by shaking and dusting with the vacuum brush. Shutters are mighty popular interior decoration today for both windows and interior doors. But they are dust catchers. The best gimmick for getting the dust out of those unmovable slanted wood strips is the brush attachment of the vacuum.

MRS. RICHARD DODSON, 1101 1st Avenue: "I don't know what I would have done during the snowstorm if I hadn't had my beautiful new Frigidaire Automatic Electric Dryer."
